

Meeting community needs in Maryland. More than 418,000 people of all ages and backgrounds are helping to solve problems and strengthen communities through 118 national service projects across Maryland. Serving with national and community nonprofit organizations, faith-based groups, schools, and local agencies, these citizens tutor and mentor children, coordinate after-school programs, build homes, conduct neighborhood patrols, organize local homeland security efforts, respond to disasters, and recruit and manage volunteers. This year, the Corporation for National and Community Service will provide more than $19,000,000 to support Maryland communities through three major programs:

Senior Corps: More than 11,000 seniors in Maryland contribute their time and talents in one of three programs: Foster Grandparents, who serve one-on-one with more than 2,100 young people who have special needs; Senior Companions, who help more than 300 other seniors live independently in their homes; and RSVP volunteers, who work with more than 800 local groups to meet a wide range of community needs.

AmeriCorps: This year, more than 1,300 individuals are serving in Maryland communities as AmeriCorps members. In return, the members receive an education award of up to $4,725 to help pay for college or pay back student loans. To date, more than 4,800 Maryland residents have qualified for education awards totaling more than $20,000,000. Two-thirds of AmeriCorps grants are made by the Governor's Office on Service and Volunteerism. National nonprofits, such as Teach for America and the American Red Cross, make other assignments. Other members serve in AmeriCorps*VISTA, and AmeriCorps*NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps).

Learn and Serve America: Since 1997, Maryland has required public school students to serve in the community as a requirement for high school graduation. More than 400,000 students in grades six through twelve are working towards that requirement by applying academic skills to solving community problems through service-learning. Through structured service-learning projects supported by Learn and Serve America grants, including grants to all 24 school districts, these students meet community needs while improving their skills and learning the habits of good citizenship.

"National service creates an opportunity structure -- community service in exchange for a college education. It encourages volunteerism and rekindles the habits of the heart. It fosters the spirit of neighbor helping neighbor that made our country great. National service is about real people offering real help to real communities."
U.S. Senator Barbara Mikulski

Through the President's Student Service Challenge, students in kindergarten through college receive presidential recognition for their outstanding community service. Students who serve 100 hours or more are eligible for a President's Student Service Award. Since 1999, more than 3,284 Maryland students have received this award. In the President's Student Service Scholarship program, two students from each high school may receive a $1,000 college scholarship for outstanding service to the community. Since 1997, more than 303 Maryland students have received these scholarships.

The National Service-Learning Leader Schools program recognizes middle and high schools for their excellence in service-learning. Gateway School in Westminster and Airmount-Harford High School in Baltimore have been recognized as Leader Schools.
